

Our Team

JO SIMMONS

Joined Mayoh Architects in 1997

Jo started working at Mayoh Architects in 1997 as an architecture student, and is currently the Practice Principal, responsible for overall Practice Management. She takes an active role in the design and development of each project within the firm. Jo specialises in all aspects of educational projects, from concept design through to construction, and maintains a close involvement in all projects throughout each stage. Her extensive experience combined with her passion for educational architecture and her excellent communication skills is reflected in her leadership of the Mayoh team, as well as the strong rapport she has built with a number of repeat clients.
